

CONFERENCE

DEVELOPING AND MANAGING COMPETENCY- BASED EDUCATION

May 15 - 17, 2017

San Antonio, TX

.....

Take the first steps in developing and implementing competency-based education.

OVERVIEW

Get the information and working time you need to be successful in developing and managing competency-based education (CBE) at your institution. You will learn from the experiences of academic leaders who have championed CBE efforts at their own institutions. This is the only conference where you will have working time to rethink curriculum design, student support, faculty involvement, and administrative processes as you embark on a CBE initiative.

EXAMPLES ROOTED IN PRACTICE, NOT THEORY

We continuously work to bring you the most innovative and practical examples of CBE in higher education. Join us to hear about the following institutions who are on the leading edge of the CBE movement:

- Kentucky Community and Technical College System
- Lipscomb University
- University of Maryland University College

PRE-CONFERENCE: APPLYING CBE TO YOUR GENERAL EDUCATION CURRICULUM

There is nowhere competency-based learning has more promise and potential than in reshaping general education across our nation's universities, yet the challenges of identifying and measuring specific competencies are not insignificant. This workshop will present lessons from two emerging models.

POST-CONFERENCE: PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT (PLA)

To retain and graduate more adult students, institutions are using PLA to award college-level credit for work and life experiences. This workshop will address how PLA can be designed to translate experiential learning into college credit.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Academic leaders tasked with implementing and managing CBE curriculum are encouraged to attend this conference with their committee. You and your team will leave with the tools you need to creatively develop, implement, and manage your CBE programs. When two attendees register from the same institution, a third registration is offered at 50% off.

LEARNING OUTCOME

After participating in this conference, you will be able to begin the first steps in developing and implementing competency-based education at your institution.

AGENDA

DAY 1: MONDAY, MAY 15, 2017

Pre-Conference Workshop: Applying CBE to Your General Education Curriculum

8:30 - 9:00 a.m.

Registration and Continental Breakfast for Pre-Conference Workshop Attendees (included in workshop registration fee)

9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

Pre-Conference Workshop: Applying CBE to Your General Education Curriculum

General education is intended to provide a foundation in liberal education to equip undergraduates with the skills they need to thrive in the 21st century. A poorly designed curriculum can jeopardize first- to second-year retention, lengthen time to degree, reduce graduation rates, and leave students questioning the value of the mythical four-year degree. Weak general education curriculum can leave faculty in upper division courses—and, eventually, graduate school faculty and employers—disappointed in students' basic skill levels and knowledge.

This workshop will address methods for using CBE in general education curriculum that can have a positive impact on the distinctiveness of your institution's core curriculum, student completion and persistence, and the employability of your students. We'll also discuss the use of backward curriculum design, modularization of curriculum content, application to national or local general education frameworks, and the use of assessments in general education courses.

12:00 - 1:00 p.m.

Lunch for Pre-Conference Workshop Attendees (included in workshop registration fee)

12:00 - 1:00 p.m.

Registration for Main Conference

1:00 - 1:15 p.m.

Opening Remarks and Introductions

1:15 - 1:45 p.m.

Open Discussion

Competency-based education means different things to different people. For example, some define the competencies for an entire college, while others focus on a program of study. In this open discussion, we will come up with a common language of competency that will guide our thinking throughout the conference.

Critical Principles for Designing Competency-Based Education

1:45 - 2:45 p.m.

Trends in Competency-Based Education

We have seen institutions implement competency-based programs with varying degrees of success. In this session, we will address different CBE models that institutions have embraced and the opportunities and challenges associated with each.

2:45 - 3:00 p.m.

Afternoon Break

3:00 - 4:15 p.m.

Learning Outcomes vs. Competencies

Traditional courses often use a single learning outcome in their syllabi and program design. By contrast, programs built on competencies require an upfront and more granular approach to articulating learning throughout the program. In this session, we'll explore practical methods for articulating and modeling competencies upfront in the design.

DAY 1: MONDAY, MAY 15, 2017 (CONTINUED)

4:15 - 4:45 p.m.

Working Activity

How does CBE affect the way you design courses or programs with respect to student outcomes? During this activity, you'll have the opportunity to test out some of the design ideas from the previous session and connect them back to your course or program.

4:45 - 5:45 p.m.

Networking Reception (included in registration fee)

DAY 2: TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2017

8:30 - 9:00 a.m.

Continental Breakfast (included in registration fee)

9:00 - 10:00 a.m.

Program Design

To develop a robust CBE program, institutions must rethink how to design and deliver programs aimed at non-traditional learners. From a curricular perspective, competency-based programs begin by assessing the knowledge and skills students need in order to graduate and design backward from there. This session will address backward design principles for CBE. In a working session, you and your colleagues will identify a list of competencies that students need to develop, as well as how to achieve those competencies.

10:00 - 10:30 a.m.

Breakout Sessions

Breakout Session One - Faculty/Instructional Designers/Faculty Developers

Now, it is your turn to try some of the design principles. At your table, you and your conference colleagues will apply specific design principles to begin the re-design process for your course or program.

Breakout Session Two - Deans/Academic Leaders

You will see more examples of course design and implementation. You'll also see examples of a finished course map with all outcomes, competencies, activities, and assessments.

10:30 - 10:45 a.m.

Morning Break

10:45 a.m. - 12:15 p.m.

Assessing Courses and Programs

Competency-based models give the institution and program more latitude when measuring learning. Institutions can directly assess subsets of competencies by designing learning evaluation exercises that invoke observable behaviors from students. In this session, we'll choose a small subset of competencies and brainstorm a series of assessments that could be used to evaluate student learning, instead of more traditional tests and papers. You will be divided into similar roles and responsibilities to work on this activity. We will end with a review of how institutions can use data from these assessments to identify at-risk students.

DAY 2: TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2017 (CONTINUED)

12:15 - 1:30 p.m.

Lunch (included in registration fee)

1:30 - 2:30 p.m.

Application of a Coaching Model in Competency-Based Education

To develop a robust CBE program, institutions must rethink faculty roles within the framework of personalized learning, substantive faculty interaction, and student success. Competency-based programs are focused on learning and development needs at the individual student level. This session will discuss the changing roles of faculty, implementation of a competency coaching model, and approaches to developing faculty and staff as coaches.

2:30 - 3:30 p.m.

Supporting Students

It can be difficult for any student to balance their studies with full-time workloads and busy schedules. In this session, we will cover challenges, opportunities, and strategies for supporting students in competency-based programs.

3:30 - 3:45 p.m.

Afternoon break

Administrative Considerations

3:45 - 5:00 p.m.

Paths to Accreditation/DOE Approach

How do accreditors view CBE models? We will explore how the DOE and various accrediting bodies are addressing competency-based models from both an accreditation and Title IV perspective. With these considerations in mind, you can design your programs to be effective for accreditation approval processes. You'll be able to apply the lessons from the DOE's approach and accreditation issues to your responsibilities and institution.

DAY 3: WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 2017

8:00 - 8:30 a.m.

Continental Breakfast (included in registration fee)

8:30 - 9:30 a.m.

Grading and Transcribing

When students leave an institution, what does their transcript tell employers or other colleges? What should it tell them? In this session, we will explore transcripts that have been in use since the 1960s. We will also explore options for grading systems and learning transcription, and discuss how those can be easily translated to a CBE format.

9:30 - 10:00 a.m.

Case Study

Using the variables in grading and transcription, we'll explore through case study how those core elements impact the institution's business model.

10:00 - 10:15 a.m.

Morning Break

AGENDA

DAY 3: WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 2017 (CONTINUED)

10:15 - 11:30 a.m.

Staffing and Cost Models

Realigning the institution to support competency-based programs requires changes in how resources are allocated. In this session, we'll look at some of the variables institutions need to consider, and how those translate to each institution's business model. We'll discuss the implications of staffing and cost models for your roles and responsibilities.

11:30 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

Wrap Up/Program Takeaways

We'll share program takeaways, explore some of the decisions that need to be made when implementing a competency-based program, and discuss options for developing, implementing, and managing CBE.

12:00 - 1:00 p.m.

Lunch for Post-Conference Workshop Attendees (included in workshop registration fee)

1:00 - 4:00 p.m.

Post-Conference Workshop: Prior Learning Assessment (PLA)

To retain and graduate more adult students, institutions are using PLA to award college-level credit for work and life experiences. PLA kick starts student success, provides economic and time benefits, increases student persistence, and encourages lifelong learning by allowing students to take a course challenge (or challenge exam) or present a portfolio to demonstrate his or her mastery of competencies. This workshop will address:

- How PLA can be designed to translate experiential learning into college credit
- What prior learning assessment (PLA) is
- Types of PLA
- How PLA contributes to academic success
- Multiple approaches to PLA
- How professional development can help prepare your faculty and administrators

INSTRUCTORS

Tiffany Denton, Assistant Dean and Director of Assessment and Prior Learning, and Associate Professor of Education, Lipscomb University

In her current role, Tiffany serves as an administrator of Lipscomb's CORE Assessment Center and designs behaviorally-based assessment and curriculum for the university's competency-based education program. She is a graduate of Harding University and spent six years studying at the University of Memphis, earning her Master of Arts and Education Specialist degrees in School Psychology, as well as her Doctor of Education degree in Applied Behavior Analysis. Tiffany holds Tennessee licensure as a school psychologist and is recognized as a Nationally Certified School Psychologist and a Board Certified Behavior Analyst with doctoral designation. Tiffany's research interests include behavioral assessment and instructional methods, academic assessment and intervention, temporal discounting, and serving adult learners through best practices in competency-based education.

Eric A. Heiser, Interim Dean, School of Applied Technology and Professional Development, Salt Lake Community College

Eric has worked in higher education for the past 11 years. He was a full-time, tenured assistant professor at Central Wyoming College in Riverton, Wyoming for six years and taught in the areas of business, management, and criminal justice. Eric also spent time as a Director and Workforce Training Coordinator during his time with Central. He has spent the past four years as an academic administrator, with the past two years as the Associate Dean and currently the Interim Dean of the School of Applied Technology and Technical Specialties at Salt Lake Community College. Eric has overseen and is currently leading the School of Applied technology to a transition from a clock hour format into Competency Based Education modality. Eric has spent the past five years working in the area of Competency Based Education and Curriculum Development and has been involved in helping to change over 15 academic programs during that time. Prior to moving to Salt Lake City, Eric also served 2.5 terms as an elected member of the Riverton City Council in Riverton, Wyoming, including two terms as the Council President. Eric Holds a Ph.D. in Higher Education Leadership from Colorado State University.

James (Jim) Selbe, Owner, Selbe Consulting and former System Director for Distance Learning Initiatives and Special Assistant to the Chancellor, Kentucky Community and Technical College System

Jim is a higher education consultant, specializing in online, competency-based education, enrollment growth and serving student veterans. He served for over seven years as the President of Hopkinsville Community College. Until January 2015, Jim served as the System Director for Distance Learning Initiatives at the Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS) and guided the development of foundation principles for competency-based online education to be used statewide. Jim was also the director of KCTCS' online, modularized, competency-based Direct2Degree program (D2D). Jim has had a distinguished career as a college and university administrator for more than 36 years. Having served at a private liberal arts university, a technical institute, a regional research university and several community colleges, Jim brings a wealth of knowledge from a variety of higher education sectors. He brings a unique perspective to guide planning and execution with full understanding of the cross-function implications.

Joellen Shendy, Associate Vice Provost and Registrar, University of Maryland University College

Joellen envisions a 21st Century student record that replaces the traditional transcript. She has worked in higher education serving adult students since 1988. Joellen is a founding member and current President of Chesapeake and Potomac Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admission Officers (CAPACRAO). She is the former Chair of the Business Process and Systems Strand of the Competency Based Education Network (CBEN), a group of colleges and universities working together to address shared challenges to designing, developing and scaling competency-based degree programs. In her current role, Joellen focuses on the strategic future of credentialing. She supports student learning via projects that empower students with metacognitive agency to articulate what they know and are able to accomplish throughout their educational journey. She is currently working with IMS Global bringing vendors and institutions together to create a new extended transcript for competency-based education.

AI Conference Experiences

Academic Impressions provides valuable exploration of timely and pragmatic challenges to higher education institutions. The combination of impassioned subject matter experts as presenters and means of engaging conference attendees was potent.

- C. Tennent, Associate VP of Facilities Management, University of Saskatchewan

This conference was the complete package: relevant topics, philosophical and practical applications, fantastic speakers, fantastic location. One of the BEST conferences I've ever attended. It is what a conference should be! Full of collaboration, networking and solutions.

- M. Lowe, Associate Professor and General Reference Librarian University of Louisiana at Monroe

CANCELLATION AND REFUND POLICIES

SATISFACTION PROMISE

We want you to be satisfied with your Academic Impressions learning experience. If the program you purchased fails to meet your expectations, please contact us within 30 days and let us know. We'll credit the full amount you paid toward another AI program that may better fit your needs.

CONFERENCES

For in-person conferences, substitute registrants are welcome and may be named free of charge at any time. If you cancel 8 weeks or more prior to the first date of the conference, you will receive a full refund, less a $100.00 service charge per attendee.

If you cancel within 8 weeks of the first date of the conference, you are not entitled to a refund. However, as a courtesy, we will allow you to apply your payment, less the service charge, toward a future purchase within one year from the date you cancel. Your payment is transferable to another person from your institution if you wish.

Please note that if you do not attend and you do not contact us in advance to cancel as described above, you are responsible for the entire payment. In case this event is cancelled, Academic Impressions' liability is limited to a refund of the registration fee only.

ONLINE TRAININGS CONSISTING OF AT LEAST ONE LIVE TRAINING DATE

You will receive a full refund (less a $75 service charge) if you cancel 8 weeks or more prior to the first live training date. If you cancel within 8 weeks of the first live training date, you are not entitled to a refund. But as a courtesy, we will apply your payment (less a $75 service charge) towards a future purchase within one year from the date you cancel. Your payment is transferable to another person from your institution if you wish. You may name a substitute primary participant free of charge at any time prior to the first live training date. If available, you may switch the live training format to a self-paced format (such as a CD-ROM Recording or On-Demand Download) free of charge. (Shipping charges will apply to CD-ROM Recording orders outside the U.S. or Canada.)
