OVERVIEW

Whether you are in the process of creating a peer mentor program or hoping to improve one that is already established, utilizing best practices is essential to creating a positive experience for both mentors and mentees. A program based on proven strategies can be an efficient and cost-effective means to:

→ Increase student retention
→ Build leadership skills in students
→ Fund and resource your program
→ Assess the performance of your program
→ Recruit and train mentors

Join us in Orange County for a comprehensive conference that will highlight best practices across traditional and niche peer mentor programs. Our expert instructors will provide practical, easy-to-follow advice for developing your peer mentor program, as well as assessment tools to help you determine the effectiveness of your program.

BRING YOUR TEAM

You should attend this program if you are responsible for implementing or revamping a peer mentor program on your campus. This program will also benefit professionals looking to create a mentorship program for niche student populations including multicultural students, international students, and transfer students. To encourage team participation, when you register 2 people from your institution, a third can attend at half price.

LEARNING OUTCOME

After participating in this conference, you will be able to apply best practices to a peer mentor program at your institution.

AGENDA

MONDAY, JANUARY 26, 2015

PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOP: DEVELOPING PEER MENTORS THROUGH ACTIVE LEARNING

8:30 - 9:00 a.m. Registration for pre-conference workshop attendees

9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. Pre-Conference Workshop: Developing Peer Mentors through Active Learning
Developing excellence in peer mentors means integrating research-based instructional strategies into your peer mentor training and development program. This workshop will detail specific activities you can utilize in face-to-face and online training. These activities don't just give peer mentors information, they also help develop their problem-solving skills, critical thinking, and communication—bringing out the very best in your peer mentors.

12:00 - 1:00 p.m. Lunch for pre-conference attendees (included in workshop registration fee)

12:30 - 1:00 p.m. Registration for main conference attendees

1:00 - 1:30 p.m. Opening comments, introductions, and learning agenda

1:30 - 3:00 p.m. Developing a Framework for Your Peer Mentor Program
In this opening session, the faculty will define the key components of a peer mentor program and lead a discussion regarding peer mentorship programs. In addition to discussing different types of peer mentor programs, the faculty will provide an overview of each of their programs and invite attendees to share information on programs or program ideas.

3:00 - 3:15 p.m. Afternoon break

3:15 - 4:30 p.m. Resourcing Your Program and Incentivizing Peer Mentors
Establishing a clear direction and soliciting the proper resources for any new initiative on campus is the foundation for success. Faculty will discuss resourcing considerations such as funding opportunities for both large and small schools; administrative considerations including professional staff time, office space, and risks; and opportunities for collaboration across campus. A discussion on incentivizing will focus on securing funding for peer mentor stipends and incentives for the budget-conscious program. Working time will be built in to help you outline budgeting considerations for your program.

4:30 - 5:30 p.m. Networking reception (included in registration fee)
TUESDAY, JANUARY 27, 2015

8:30 - 9:00 a.m.  Continental breakfast (included in registration fee)

9:00 - 10:30 a.m.  Creating and Critiquing Learning Outcomes

Our instructors will share an overview of the learning outcomes model used by University of Central Florida. This overview will be followed by working time allowing you to map your own learning outcomes. For those institutions that came with learning outcomes prepared, the working session will be used for a faculty critique of the prepared outcomes.

10:30 - 10:45 a.m.  Morning break

10:45 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.  Measuring Learning Outcomes

During this interactive session, you will develop quantitative measurement tools to assess your learning outcomes. You will have the opportunity to report out to the group for peer and faculty feedback.

12:00 - 1:00 p.m.  Lunch (included in registration fee)

1:00 - 2:30 p.m.  Assessing Your Peer Mentor Program

During this session, you will learn best practices for tracking and evaluating your outcomes. You will also learn how to report on your research through a case study from Seneca College.

2:30 - 2:45 p.m.  Afternoon break

2:45 - 4:30 p.m.  Recruiting and Selecting Peer Mentors and Guided Working Session

This session will consist of a tactical overview of the entire recruitment and selection process highlighting the following topics:

- Recruiting
- Understanding application models
- Best practices for soliciting faculty/staff recommendations
- Selecting
- Innovative interview formats
- Setting criteria for peer mentors
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 2015

8:30 - 9:00 a.m.  Continental breakfast (included in registration fee)

9:00 - 10:00 a.m.  Training Peer Mentors: An Interactive Training Exercise
We will lead a hands-on activity that will help you understand how to run effective training sessions and allow you to experience a training session from a student perspective.

10:00 - 10:15 a.m.  Break

10:15 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.  Components of a Successful Training Program and Guided Working Session
The afternoon will continue with a discussion outlining the components of effective peer mentor training programs and distribution of relevant materials. This session will provide an opportunity for you to outline a training program for your peer mentor program. The faculty will be available to assist you in drafting an agenda, developing training objectives, and identifying key collaborative partners.
INSTRUCTORS

MARGIE BADER / Program Coordinator, SMILE Mentoring Program and Professor
Seneca College

Margie’s career spans more than twenty years in the fields of education and counseling at the university and college level, both in Johannesburg and Toronto. Since 2006, Margie has coordinated the SMILE (Student Mentoring in Life and Education) program, a major contributor to student retention at Seneca and one of the leading post-secondary mentoring programs in Canada.

As a highlight of her career, Margie saw the end of apartheid and participated in helping black students integrate into university life. In recent years Margie has been working on developing different models of mentoring to meet the needs of different program areas. She has spent the past year developing a first-of-its-kind, pre-arrival mentoring program for international students.

Margie completed a master’s in social service at Bryn Mawr School of Social Work and Social Research in Pennsylvania. She is a South African qualified counseling psychologist and teaches psychology and conducts workshops in emotional intelligence for student leaders.

BRYCE BUNTING / Associate Director, First-Year Mentoring, College of Undergraduate Education
Brigham Young University

Bryce has extensive experience in orientation, freshman seminars, common reading programs, admissions, and peer mentoring. Bryce holds a PhD in instructional design, and his research interests include learning and identity development among peer mentors, the application of instructional design principles to mentor development, and high-impact practices in the first year of college.

Bryce’s research on peer mentor learning was published in a special issue of The Journal of the First-Year Experience & Students in Transition. He has presented nationally and internationally with the National Resource Center for the First-Year Experience and Students in Transition, the American Educational Research Association (AERA), the International Society for Exploring Teaching and Learning (ISETL), the International Consortium for Educational Development, and the National Academic Advising Association (NACADA). He also serves as an associate editor for the Journal of Peer Learning.
