ENTERPRISE RISK MANAGEMENT FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

June 11 - 12, 2015
Atlanta, GA
OVERVIEW

Universities most often manage risks with a siloed, transactional approach. While this approach may mitigate an individual matter at hand, it does little to identify strategic and reputational risks that can impact an institution’s ability to meet its missions and goals. Enterprise risk management (ERM) offers institutions a method for integrating risk into the strategic decisions of senior leaders and board members, better positioning the university to accomplish its objectives.

Join us in Atlanta to learn how to develop, or improve, an ERM program for your institution. Our expert faculty will showcase various models of ERM and breakdown the components into an easy-to-understand framework that can be applied to any institution type.

WHY IMPLEMENT ERM?

Adopting an ERM approach can help you:

→ Reduce the costs associated with increased accountability
→ Address the rapidly changing risks affecting higher education
→ Respond to increased regulation in higher education
→ Achieve a higher standing with credit rating agencies and accreditors
→ Establish trust among stakeholders regarding investments, privacy, IT security, and compliance
